This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

The necessity and usefulness of an Index to Legal Periodical Literature is not to be questioned. Many minor topics of the law, which are wholly neglected or only briefly treated in the text-books, are often exhaustively treated in the legal journals by able lawyers. The great mass of the contributions to these periodicals has been made by lawyers and judges who are not authors of text-books, and who have not published their articles in any other form.

This volume indexes the leading articles, and such other lesser articles as seem of permanent value, published in the legal periodicals, printed in the English language, during the period from January, 1898, to December, 1907, as well as such articles printed during 1897 that were omitted from Jones, Vol. II. Altogether 512 volumes have been indexed. Several other sets were examined but were found to contain only cases or matter of no permanent interest.

The general plan of this volume is somewhat different from that adopted by the late Judge Jones in the first two volumes of the series. It is also more elaborate than that of the Index to Legal Periodicals published for the American Association of Law Libraries since the beginning of 1908. The plan used in this volume is a combination of titles and subjects. It is designed more for the lawyer than the librarian. Use has been made of two digest classifications. The West Publishing Company has graciously allowed the compiler to make such use of their American Digest classification as he thought necessary in order to make this volume useful to the legal profession. The articles published in the English, Irish, Scotch, Canadian, and British Colonial periodicals have been classified under the Mews Digest scheme, the use of which is gratefully acknowledged. The author index is elaborate and is designed for the reader to locate any article indexed by reference to it alone.

The Bar Association Reports, as such, have not been indexed. The compiler has found that most, if not all, of the principal articles and addresses printed therein were also published in the legal periodicals and are so made accessible to the users of this volume.

As this volume was compiled during 1918–19, the book-reviews printed during the period covered have been omitted, as any interest therein has now generally been lost.

The table of cases gives only such as have been specially criticized or commented on in leading or semi-leading articles.

The greater portion of the volumes indexed were found on the shelves of the Boston Book Company. When that supply was exhausted the compiler was forced to make use of the libraries. Grateful acknowledgment is made to Mr. John T. Fitzpatrick of the New York State Law Library, Mr. Edward B. Adams of the Harvard Law Library, and Mr. Edward H. Redstone and Mr. Howard L. Stebbins of the Social Law Library, for many courtesies extended.

The work of compiling this volume was commenced, by request, in January, 1918. It was carried on almost entirely outside of office hours. Evenings and holidays, for sixteen months, were cheerfully sacrificed that the work could be completed at the earliest possible moment. The compiler wishes to thank his many friends who have assisted him in his work by their kind words of encouragement, without which he possibly would not have been able to carry on. Now that the work is done it is with a feeling of regret that he could not have had more time in which to smooth off the rough edges and incorporate additional features for its greater usefulness.
